Event details:

During the Warsaw Night of Museums, we invite you for guided tours where you will learn about the history of Ksawery Konopacki and his house and visit the restored 19th-century building. Each participant will receive a publication with a condensed version of this story. After the tour, you will be able to see Anna Neubarts exhibition 'Painted with a Braid,' which will present, among other things, paintings referring to previous epochs in art such as Art Nouveau or Art Deco. In addition to historical journeys through time, the artist invites you for a May walk in a garden full of paintings.

Practical information:

Guided tours of Konopacki Palace (where Praga Cultural House is located) every half-hour from 6 p.m. or until the group has gathered. Entrance to the building from Środkowa Street.
