Event details:

The exhibition of works by Berlin-based artist Ralf Ritter is dedicated to objects, everyday items that the artist inherited after the passing of two close individuals. A dishwasher, an automatic shoe polisher, or a pot, these are not mementos but mundane items that accompany us in life, remaining after we depart. Ritter translates images of objects onto canvas using a complex technique he developed combining painting, graphics, and photography. The exhibition will be held in a nearly century-old villa in Zalesie Górne near Warsaw.

Practical information:

The entrance to the gallery is located at the rear of the house at Pionierów Street 11/13.
